

Dinner has to happen anyway.

100 recipes for the stretch of life when there is a small person who needs feeding at six, an adult who has not eaten properly since breakfast, and about twenty minutes between the two.

Nothing takes over twenty minutes from a cold start. Everything is built on whole ingredients. Every recipe leaves one pan or one basket behind — and ends by telling you how to lift a toddler’s portion out of that same pan, before the salt and before the chilli.

- 100 recipes

20 minutes, maximum

1 pan or basket
- 49 cuisines

54 vegetarian

4 servings throughout

The whole book is open source. Every recipe, and the software that typesets them into this book, is published under an open licence at github.com/hackerbay/twenty-minute-table. Take it, change it, translate it, print it. We would rather eating well did not depend on having time, money, or anybody’s permission.

The 20-Minute Table
NAWAZ DHANDALA

The 20-Minute Table

A hundred fast, whole-food recipes for the years when dinner has to happen anyway.

Twenty minutes, from a cold start.
One pan or one basket, and that is the washing up.
A toddler’s portion out of the same pan.

100 RECIPES	49 CUISINES	20 MINUTES, MAX	1 PAN OR BASKET
----------------	----------------	--------------------	--------------------

A DOZEN OF THE HUNDRED

Pad Krapow — Thai Basil Chicken	18 min	Huevos Rancheros Rápidos	15 min
Prawn Saganaki with Feta	20 min	Gyeran Bap — Korean Egg Rice	10 min
Sichuan Cumin Beef with Peppers	16 min	Salmon Poke Bowl	16 min
Fifteen-Minute Chana Masala	15 min	Ful Medames	12 min
Gambas al Ajillo with Chickpeas	18 min	Spiced Apple & Oat Crumble Cups	18 min
West African Peanut Stew Express	20 min	Coconut Sambol	8 min